Jim,

What am I supposed to say to a friend like you. You're a truly wonderful guy and I know you always will be. I hope that just because you're going away ~~that~~ you'll forget me, because I really would like to keep in touch. You're a very special person to have as a friend and I'm very fortunate. You'll always have a special place in my heart.

Love,

Reflected in the faces,
echoed in the laughter,
flashed, through the smiles,
a new mood is evident.
You can feel it in the halls,
the easy atmosphere,
the casual friendliness,
the absence of the once constant tension. No longer is there the static hidden beneath the masked faces.
What was once two different schools is now emerging as one harmonious community of people who work together, play together, experience together. It is something that couldn't be forced.
It is not a sudden change, but a gradual process in which the element of time played a key part. How can you help but grow close?
No, it's still not perfect,
but it's gettin' better,
gettin' better everyday . . .

Anne Freeman and Vicki Jones stir up spirit.

STUDENTS' DRESS REFLECTS FREEDOM

As the world progresses to a more free and liberal society so does South Dade. It operates under the principle that students are mature human beings. Bells are eliminated, passes unheard of, and a dress code almost extinct. An array of hot pants, maxis, jeans, scarf shirts, cut-offs, and other potpourri is seen daily. However, the entire school has not followed this trend. Amid the sandled feet, and the braless look, the traditional school dress still prevails.

A typical group of students exemplify the variety of dress at South Dade.

LITTER SPOILS S. D. SCENERY

Gone are the days of a high school dull, dismal, and completely void of personality. Brightly painted doors, art work, bulletin boards blaring unorthodox messages; these indicate just a few of the ways students and teachers individualize South Dade. Unfortunately, along with these expressions of freedom come carelessness. Milk cartons, cigarette butts, twenty minute break sacks, and gum wrappers mar the scenery. The beautification is counteracted by the pollution. The Environmental Action Group, tried to clean up the mess. For the day, It worked. It's up to the rest of the people to make it better.

PARTICIPATION EXPANDS

South Dade offers equal opportunity for all. Not only is it an educational institute, but a place of learning through numerous extra-curricular activities. With the many new clubs, and organizations in '72, more people are directly involved with South Dade. The spirit of participation is vividly exploited, definitely better when compared with duller years of yesterday.

THE ROAD TO CHANGE . . .

South Dade can be a lonely place at times. In the mass of 3,000, it is easy to lose your identity. (If you are lucky enough to have found it.) New ideas are thrust at you daily. Things that were perfectly clear in your mind, become out of focus. Instead of black or white, issues are gray; lines no longer straight, pictures no longer clear. Life looks complicated, troubles big. Yet, even while experiencing unpleasant emotions of fear, pain, and confusion, you are feeling and caring. You are aware, thus subject to growth and change; and that is good.

PEOPLE MAKE GOOD FRIENDS

To define a friend is to write a book, for friends come in many colors, shapes, and sizes. A friend may be a teacher, classmate, or counselor. The degree of friendship ranges from acquaintances to lovers. Yet, in every type, there must be both giving and receiving. Friends compose a vital part of life, and especially at this time in life.

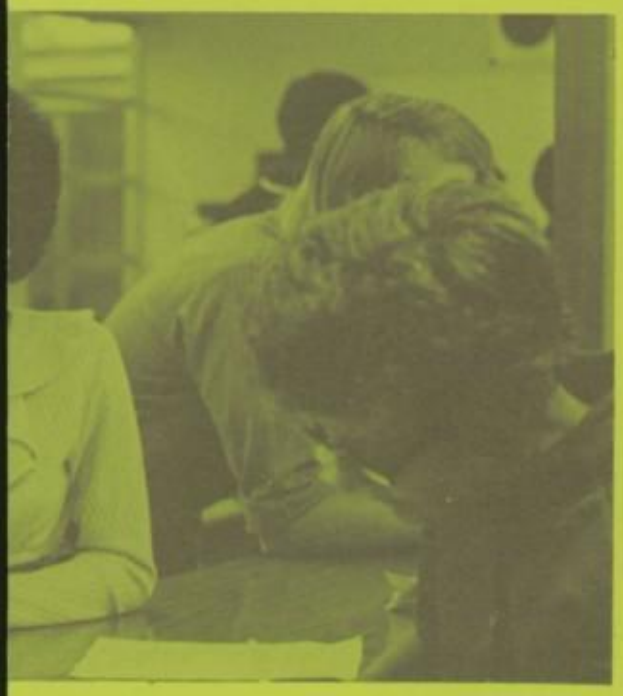
S. D. MOVES FROM THE PAST INTO THE FUTURE



South Dade has come a long way in the past years. It rapidly reached it's peak in the year of 1972. Spirit, which was almost nonexistent, abounds in all three classes. Friendliness openly displayed, definitely tells the story of improvement. The year is one of ease, and freedom, with plenty of fun mixed in. More important, the students are beginning to bridge the gap between themselves.

DEDICATED . . . TO YOU, DEAR DOC

Things are getting better at South Dade and one of the main reasons is Dr. Dorothy Tucker. Easy going, helpful, enthusiastic, concerned, all describe Dr. Tucker, originator of the rap sessions at South Dade. She can be found everywhere: in the halls, in the classroom, on the field, talking, listening, counseling. A friend to all in time of need. Because of these reasons and many more, Dr. Tucker, we dedicate this yearbook to you.

PAGEANT NIGHT 71-72

A Homecoming Queen candidate karate chopping a block of wood, another swinging across stage on a grape vine; Pageant Night 71-72 out did itself in originality. The mood set was one of informality. Cheers, Jew's harps, and dirty jokes shortened the gap between the girls acts. Chaos reigned backstage as sophisticated beauties pushed and shoved to change clothes and scenery on time . . . and the audience went home smiling.

PARADE RECIPE

Three parts cardboard, one hundred parts paper flowers, a dash of chicken wire, and a drop of paint, two weeks of work, and four dozen eggs. Mix in fourteen beauties, a shower of rain, a flame of fire, a first place Senior Class float, a couple of gas masks, a daring gymnast, and throngs of people, and that's what the Homecoming Parade 1971-1972 is made of.

Atop the ecology bus, the Environmental Action Group questions the world's fate in '76.

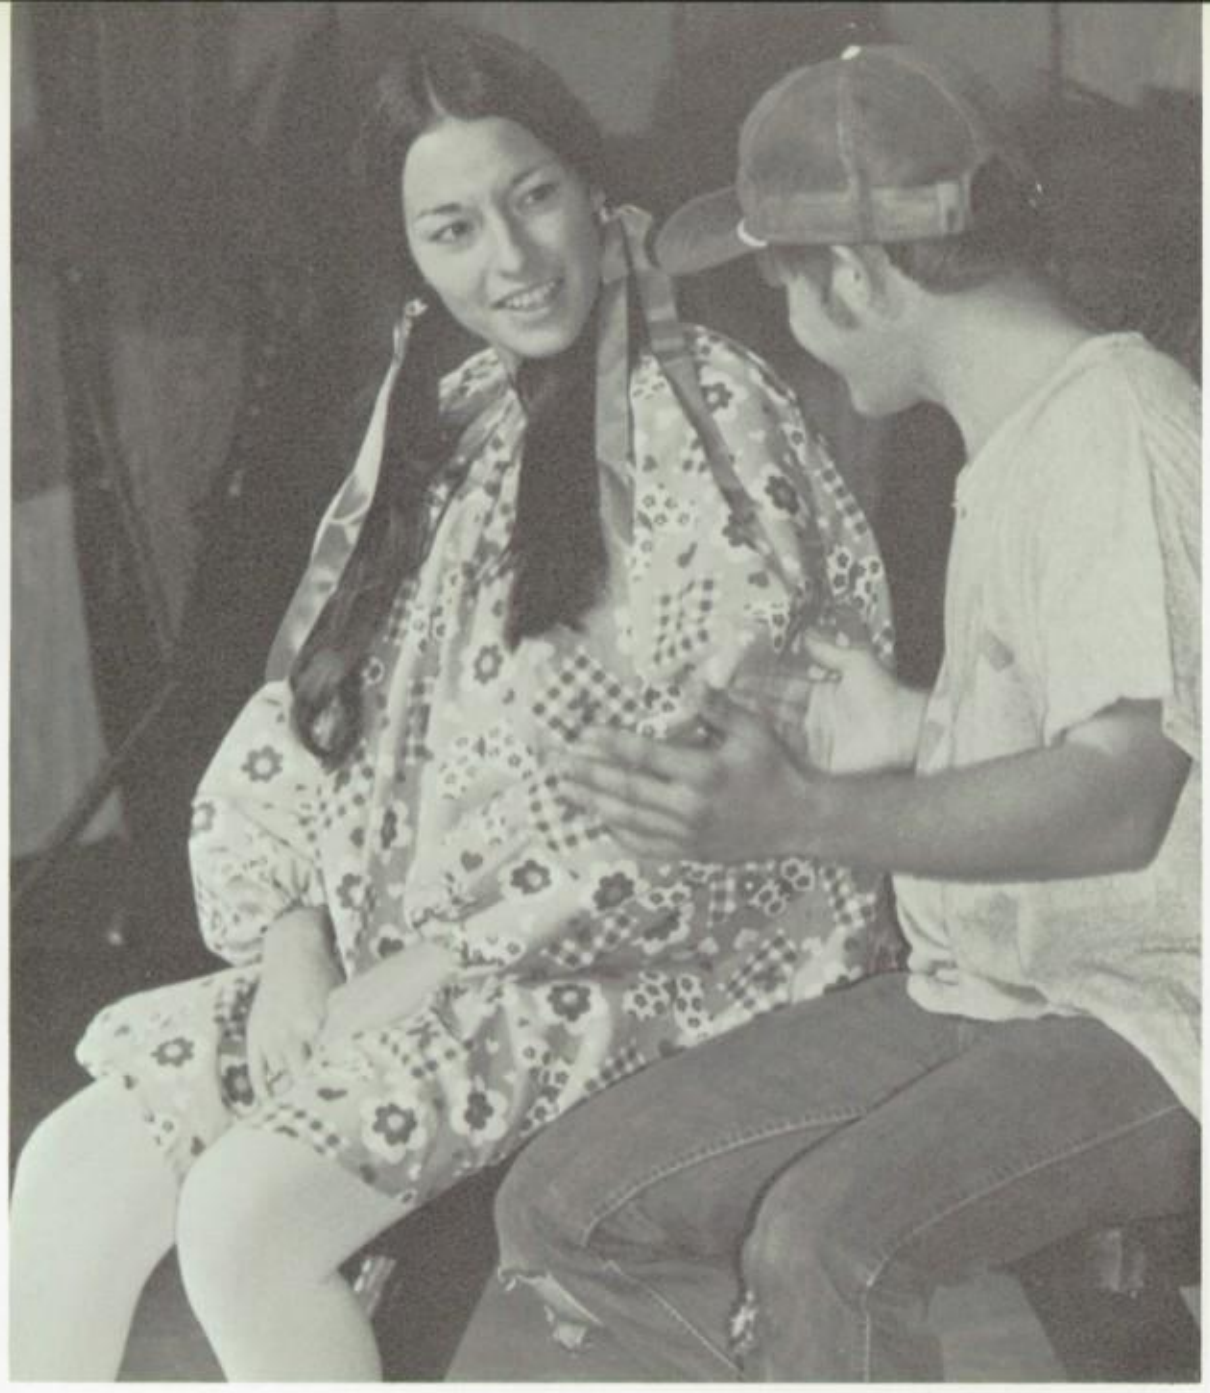
THE SPIRIT OF '72



Yelling, wearing weird things, and watching parades is the thing to do during Homecoming Week. Hat Day, Stars and Stripes Day, Flower Day, and Senior Color Day—all a part of an extremely hectic week. The students running around wearing hats, flowers, red, white, and blue, the band marching through the halls, cheerleaders dancing on the roof, pep rallies interrupting classes, girls displaying their talents on Pageant Night, Seniors burning down their float and still winning first place, and the climax of a fantastic week, our team winning the game. Fun, fun, fun! Who says things aren't getting better?

The week of Homecoming came to a climax during the halftime of the football game with Key West. Following the football action, which ended in a halftime score of 7-0, came the procession of Homecoming couples. A salute to the Seniors was the theme with Mr. Norman Anderson narrating. The girls and their escorts promenaded before an overflow crowd to love songs. Finally, Gladys Hardy, the 1971-72 Homecoming Queen was announced. Excited and tearful, she accepted a bouquet of roses from Mr. Gross. With the excitement from the stands penetrating the field, the Big Blue creamed the Conchs 21-0.

What is last year's model U.N. doing in this year's yearbook? Well, it was such an important event that we had to put it in. After all, it's not every year we have the model U.N. down here or have a delegate kidnapped from under the watchful eyes of the security guards. The guards did rescue the delegate just minutes before he was supposed to be killed though. Yes, it was an exciting U.N. last year and it'll be better this year.

MOOD

A school is nothing without its people. Empty halls seem endless without the life that the students bring to them. The school is faced with many hours of lonely desolation but as the students and teachers start each day, happiness and warmth fill the school as they get it all together.

VAL. AND SAL. OF '72

It seems as if the honored positions of valedictorian and salutatorian are often overlooked. It is a great honor to graduate first and second in your senior class. South Dade proudly presents Valedictorian, Miss Regina Reed, and Salutatorian, Miss Nancy Rodda.

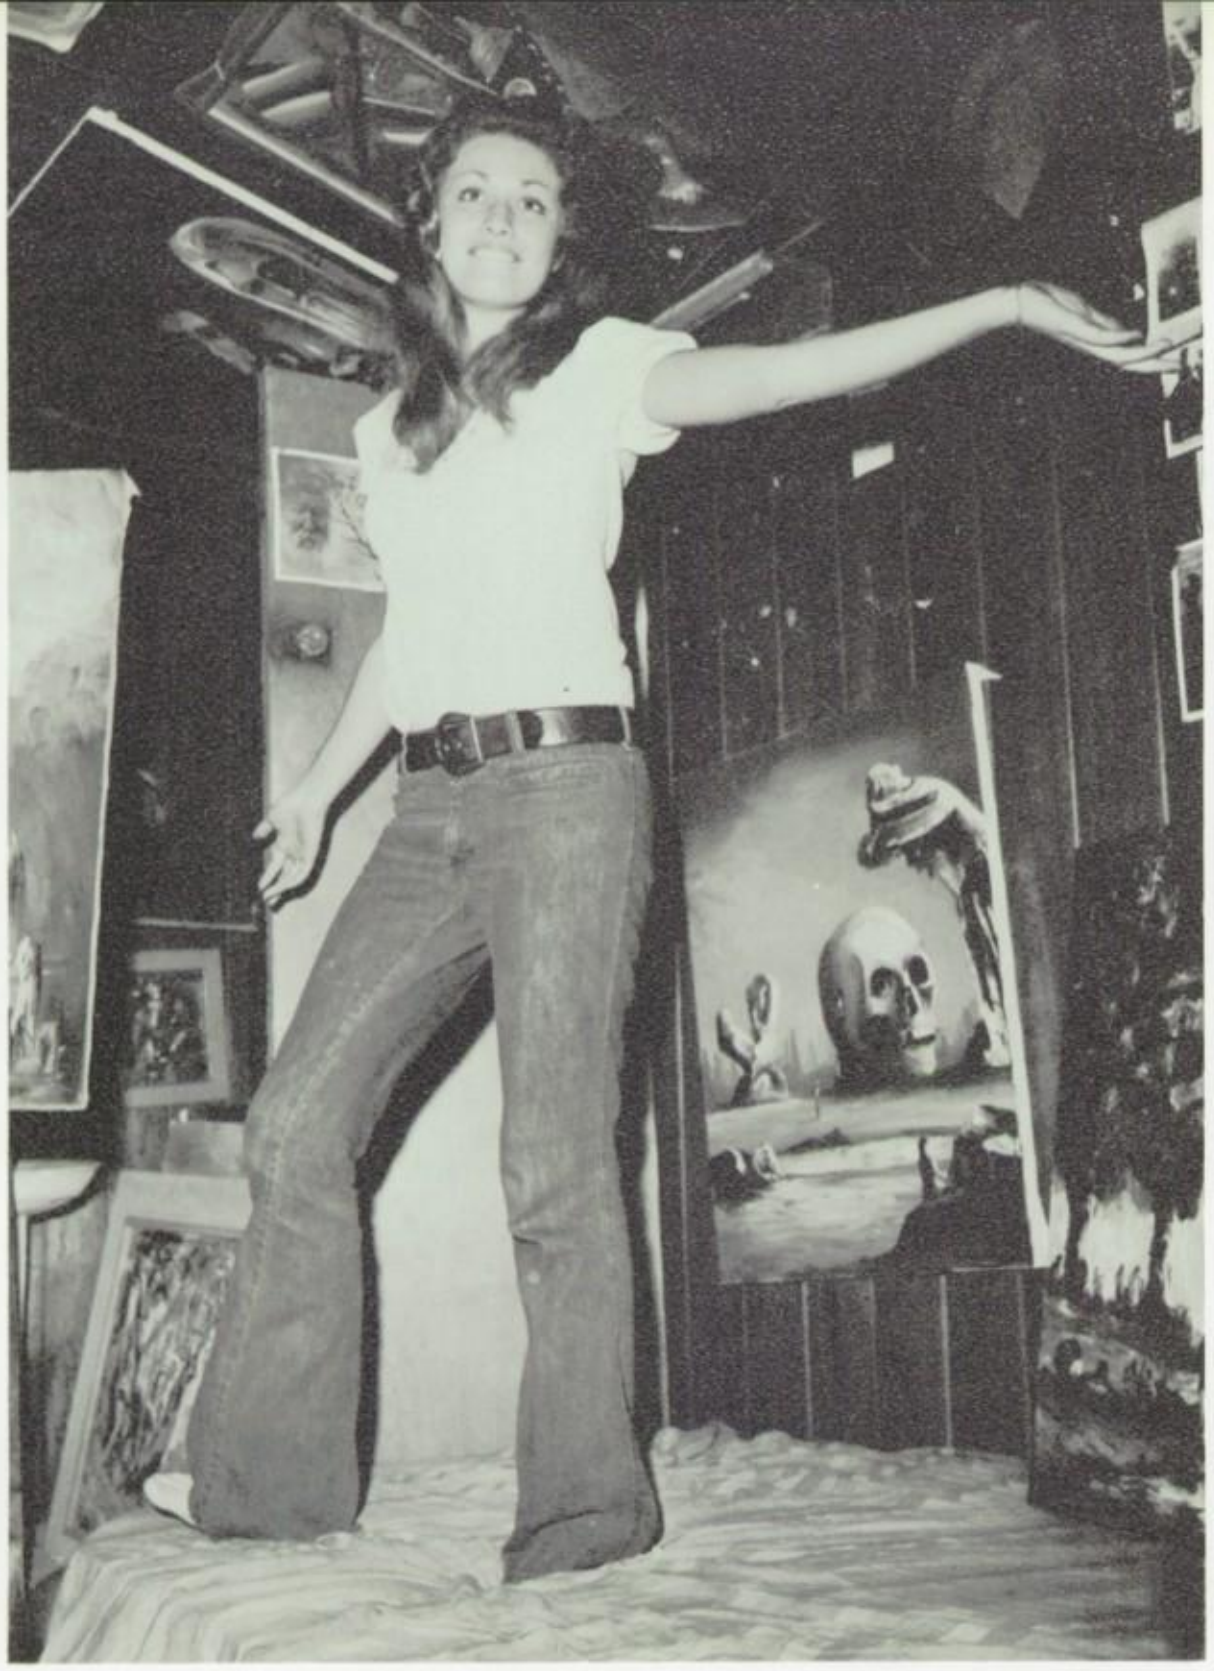
SENIORS OF DISTINCTION.

South Dade's Seniors of Distinction are students who have given their time and effort towards improving South Dade High. The basis for selection is the list of Senior Achievements every senior fills out. Participation in Athletics, Student Government, Honor Societies, and Music are tallied in a point system to select the eight high ranking students.

James Richardson has been active in many organizations. As a sophomore, he was elected class senator, as a junior, he served on student Court, and as a senior he has proven to be an outstanding campus leader. James has been a member of the football and track teams since his sophomore year, and has lettered in both. He has been on the honor roll for three years. Because of all of James' activities he was selected for Boys's State, and a Senior of Distinction.

Lisa Wujnovich, has shown herself to be an active leader not only as editor of the yearbook, but also in the school and community. Since her sophomore year she has worked in Teens in Politics, and has been a leader in the Washington and school Model United Nations. Lisa is a member of National Honor Society, Order of Scholars, and French Honor Society. She is also the school's nominee for Silver Knights in the field of social sciences.



Kim Vensel's three years at South Dade has proven active and varied. She has been a member of both Varsity Singers, and the Southernaire Staff for two years. Kim has served the community for the past three years with the Civinettes. She also bears the unique distinction of belonging to every type of honor society of South Dade— journalism, music, language, and scholastic. Election of the Homecoming Court is another of her many honors.

Marcia Green has been very active in her years at South Dade High School. She has been in such clubs as Pep Club (president), Teens in Politics, The Spanish Club, Creative Expression Club, Future Homemakers of America, and Alpha and Omega. Through her efforts on Student Court, Marcia has been instrumental in helping to better race relations. She has rounded out her activities by being active in the Girls Athletic Association, and on both the volleyball and basketball team. She also heads the club section of the yearbook.

SENIORS OF DISTINCTION

Pam Spain has proven an asset to South Dade. She began her activities as a sophomore in the civinettes, pep club, and Teens in Politics. As a junior and senior she held offices in both Pep Club, and Teens in Politics. She has also actively participated in Student Government in her senior and junior year. As a senior she spent 6 weeks in Washington working for Senator Chiles.

Tom Fichter has lead the class of 72 as president for 3 years. He has also been active in such clubs as Spanish Club and Teens in Politics club. President of National Honor Society and Silver Knight Nominee name but a few of his many honors. Tom also has been a staff member of the Southernaire for two years. Tom is truly a leader well deserving of the title of Senior of Distinction.

Linda Campbell is one of the few seniors who has been in Varsity Singers for three years. She has been active in Spanish Club, Spanish Honor Society, and National Honor Society. As a secretary to both honor societies and Varsity Singers, she has devoted many hours of work.

Luther Jones has excelled at South Dade in the field of Music. As a sophomore he joined the Marching and Symphonic Bands and in his junior and senior years he has been outstanding in Stage Band. Luther's activities include, Teens in Politics Club, French Club, Spanish Club and 1st Lieutenant of the Band. He is also the WQAM High School Correspondent for South Dade and winner of the Bank of Florida Humanitarianism Award.

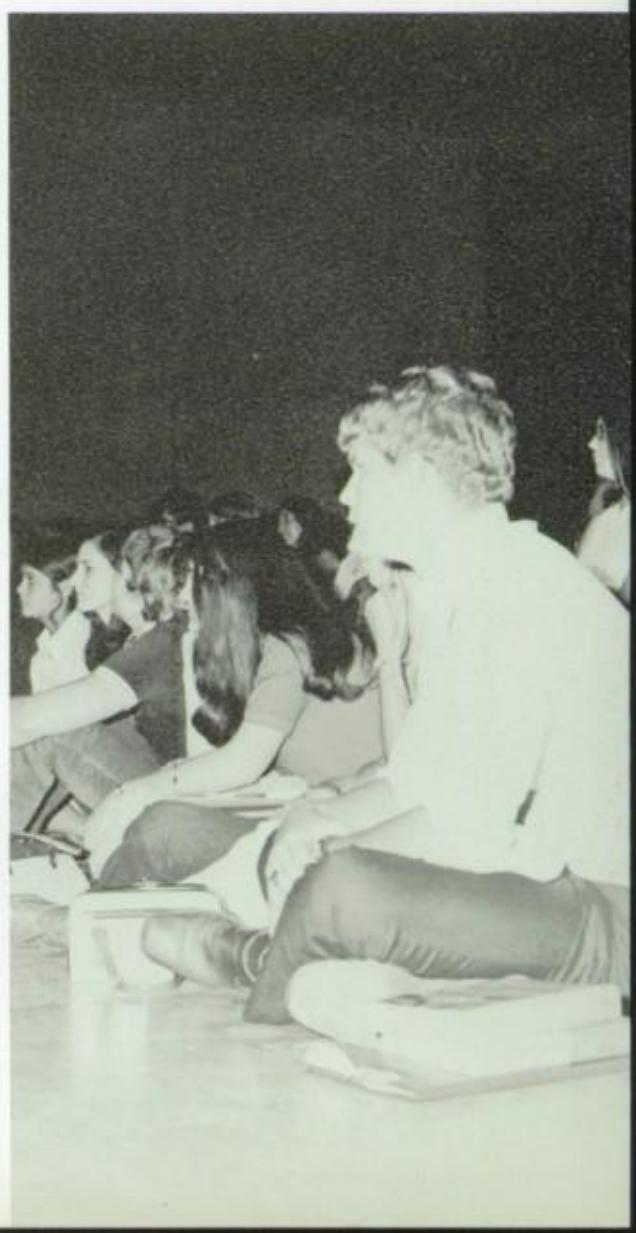
At one of the many concerts given at South Dade, the students had the opportunity to turn on to a new and different rock group—the Shalom. Besides being musicians they were also comedians. As a break between musical numbers they provided the audience with amusing skits which brought laughter and applause. Together the trio's performance provided a relaxing and enjoyable break from the monotony of classes.



ASSEMBLIES HIGHLIGHT THE DAY.

Variety is the key word in describing the assemblies this year. Ranging from outdoor pep rallies to indoor presentations by speakers, assemblies are the highpoint of the day.

The theme of black culture week was "know your Heritage." The idea behind this week was to attempt to instill pride in the Black Culture. During the week posters were hung in the school halls giving information on black culture. Many displayed the evolution of music from spirituals and blues to soul and rock. Each day a different series of events was planned. Movies and slides were shown and special guests were invited to speak on such subjects as desegregation and Afro-Arts. As a whole Black Culture was beneficial to the promotion of brotherhood.

ALL COWS EAT GRASS.

Of the many courses offered at South Dade, Piano is one of the newest and most unique. The course began last year with two pianos, now it has added twelve new electric pianos. The students work on independent assignments and select their own music. These range from Carole King and James Brown to Beethoven and Bach. Piano gives the students a chance to become aware of the world of music, and an opportunity to develop a skill they may use for the rest of their lives.

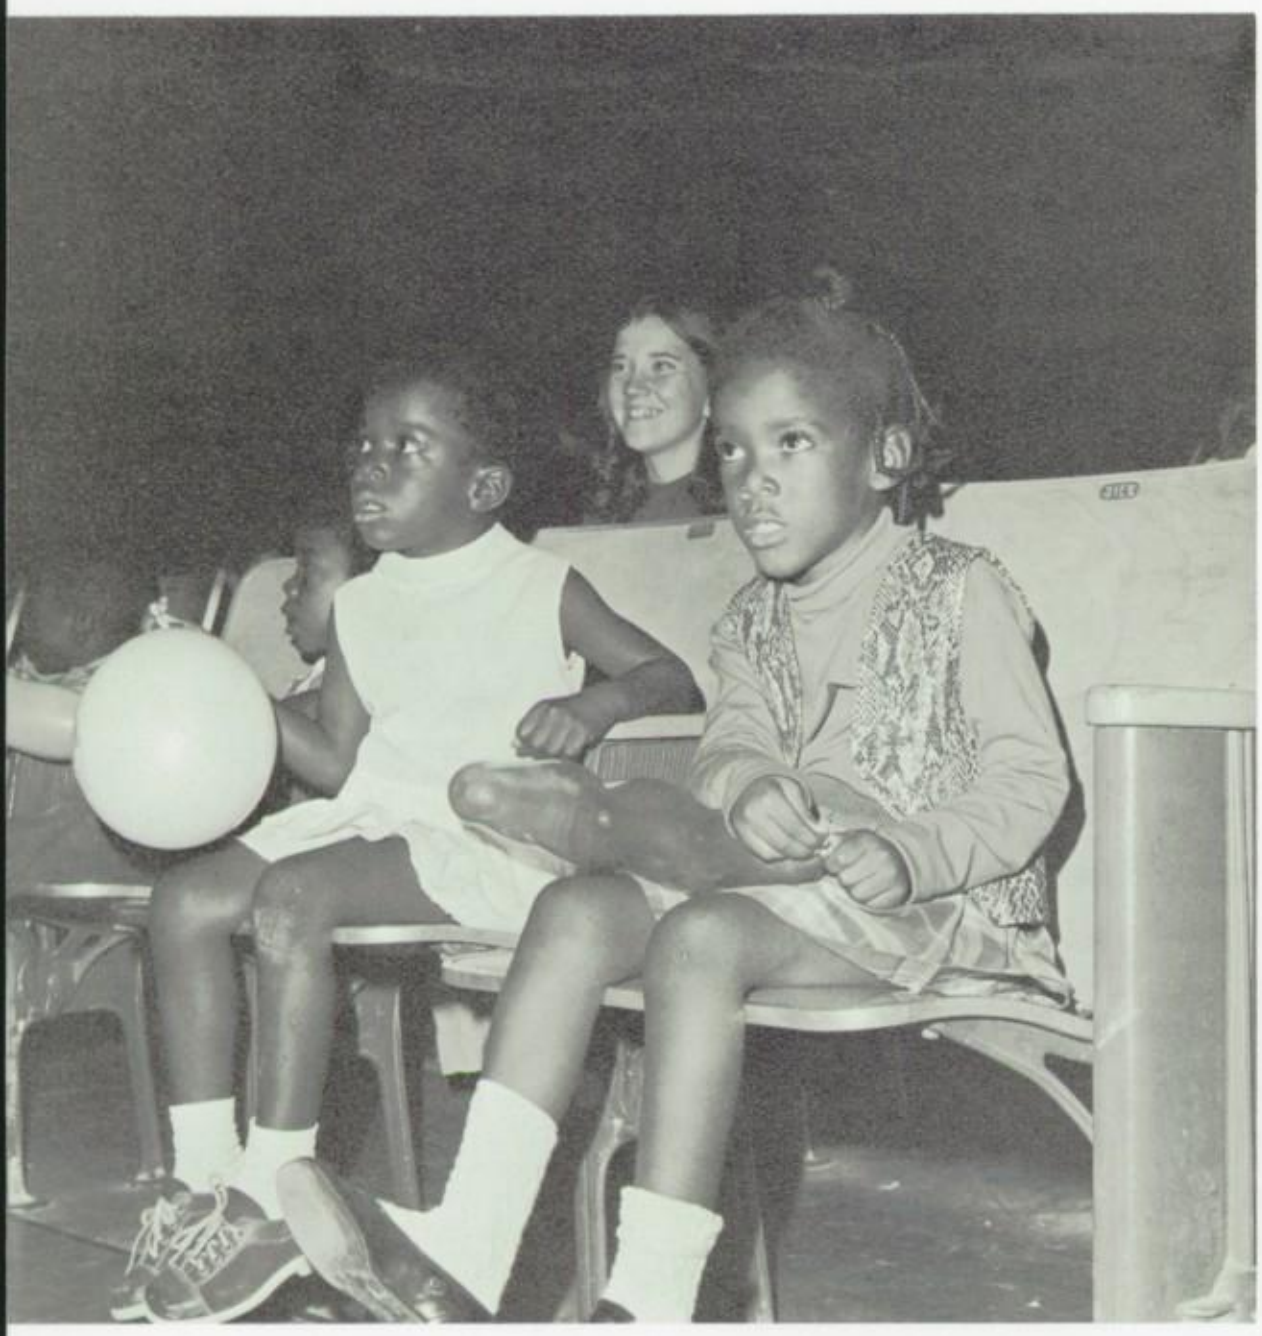
HERE COMES SANTA!



In collaboration with Mr. Santa Claus the senior class sponsored a Christmas party for ninety pre-school children in the Head Start Program. The children were from the age of two to five years old. The majorettes, cheerleaders, Civinettes, Chorus, band, and interested seniors contributed their time and effort in making the Christmas party a huge success. Wide eyed children watched in amazement as Santa Claus arrived bringing presents for each of them. There was a balloon hunt in the auditorium and games played outside. The chorus and band added to the Christmas Spirit.

A privilege completely new to South Dade is the mid-shift break. After the third hour class students have twenty minutes of their own. Many spend their time rapping with friends, eating, attending club meetings, or just gathering in the parking lot listening to tapes. When the bell rings at the end of the break, students return a little more relaxed and ready to face the remainder of the day.

THE FACES OF FRIENDS

With a student body of two thousand six hundred coming to and fro during the course of a normal day, it's almost impossible to know everyone. Walking in the halls we see many nameless faces day after day. Individuals hurry on their own way, sometimes smiling sometimes not, yet when encircled with friends they're secure once again.

THE WAY THEY WENT

South West 7-0 Hosting at Harris Field, Big Blue smashed South West. Five Thousand exuberant fans attended the game and their spirit and unity was a major factor in the success of the game. The lone touchdown came in the 3rd quarter as a result of a halfback pass. The pitchout from quarterback Ulysses Jackson to L. T. Edwards was converted into a 58 yard pass to Nate Benton.

Gables 7-14 South Dade went to the Orange Bowl undefeated. It was a tough game and S.D. won against one of the state's top ranked teams.

Coral Park 21-26 Going into the fourth quarter in the lead, South Dade anticipated a win—then our defense lost steam. Coral Park gained two touchdowns in the last five minutes of the game to upset South Dade with a second loss.

Central 16-14 Losing 14-13 late in the fourth quarter, the Big Blue suddenly came alive. With 4 seconds left in the game, S.D. blocked a Central punt and recovered deep in their own territory. A field goal by South Dade caused a statewide upset against 7th ranked Central.

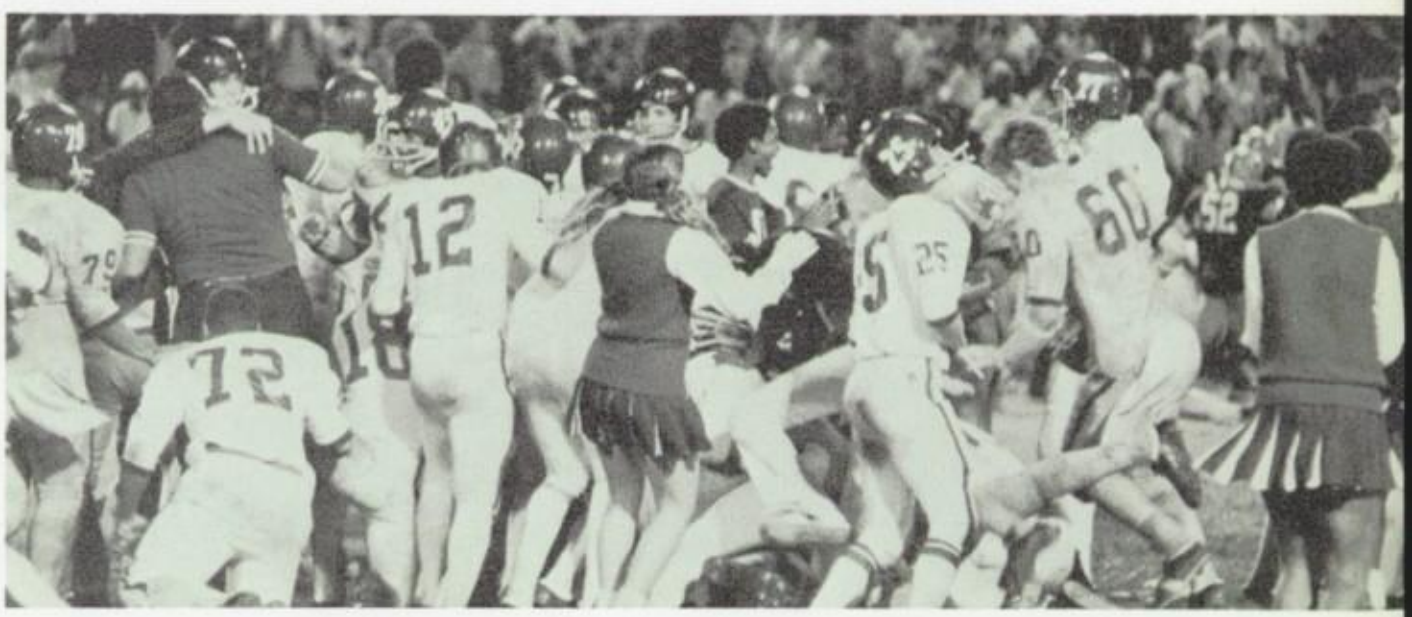
Quarterback Hulon Kemp rapping with head coach Don Drinkhan.

Key West 21-0 It was Homecoming night and for the first time a South Dade football game was televised. The crowd was wild and the noise was earsplitting throughout the jammed stands. Our team won by an overwhelming margin but the highlight of the game was the beautiful halftime show and the crowning of our queen.

Killian 0-9 A muddy field that was responsible for converting plays to fumbles was the heartbreak of the game.

Beach 0-20 South Dade was blanked at Memorial Field in a game that kept the spirited fans on their feet. South Dade was held to 102 yards and Miami Beach remained undefeated.

Columbus 7-15 One crucial referee call erased an intercepted runback touchdown by L.B. Mike Darby. L.T. Edwards ran 101 yards in 28 carries. L.T. topped off a 60 yard drive with a one yard plunge for the only South Dade score.



Underneath that pile is Jack Ames!

Miami High 21-6 L.T. Edwards carried the ball 33 times for 120 yards, crediting his efforts to fullback C.A. Hill, offensive lineman Tom Gorman, Mike Marcus and Elijah Bemley for opening the holes. Credit is also due to the defense for holding the huge Miami High team to six points. The defense was led by Gilbert Bowles, Harrell Johnson, and Larry James.

Palmetto 7-14 Sophomore quarterback Hulon Kemp started his second varsity game for the Big Blue a little shaky in the first half, but came back to ride the Palmetto pass defense. Hitting Nate Benton downfield for long gains twice, Kemp set up a five yard touchdown for Edwards. Jack Ames kicked the extra point with Rick Quinones holding.

This Year's Junior Varsity proved to be the best in the history of South Dade. Determined to improve over last year, J.V. missed a perfect record by only two points. The '72 J.V. was the largest ever with at least seventy-eight signing up and only a few dropping out. The Killian game, although a loss, was the most exciting with phenomenal individual and team effort. Led by such outstanding players as Hulon Kemp, Willie Lester, and Keith Snyder the team bulldozed their way to an undisputed season win.

Inexperience and speed plagued the 1971-72 basketball team throughout the season. The squad began quickly with two victories then settling down to play 500 ball for the remainder of the season. The team leaders were Steve Stout and Willie Scott. Consistently scoring Steve produced seven games of twenty points or more. Willie was second in scoring and rebounded the boards for S.D. Improving Rob Baker contributed to decisively defeating several fine ball clubs. Jim Stout and Herman Jones two sophomores, together with Junior Steve Stout, provides a great nucelus for the "New Year."

J.V. BASKETBALL IN TOP FORM

This year's J.V. Basketball team was one of the quickest and most resourceful J.V. teams ever to dribble down a basketball court at South Dade. Time and time again our players raced down the court before the opponents could set up a defense. With a season record of 13 wins and 4 losses, S.D. tied with Coral Gables and Miami Beach for third place. The '72 J.V. team promises to develop into an even greater Varsity team for next year.

J.V. CHEERLEADERS GENERATE SPIRIT

The J.V. squad is made up of sophomores and is considered to be the best preparation for a girl who would like to become a Varsity Cheerleader. Girls wanting to join the squad participate in a special cheerleading clinic in October conducted by the Varsity Cheerleaders. In November, the squad is chosen by a committee of teachers, counselors, and the two captains of the Varsity squad. Each girl makes her own uniform, must maintain high grades and good conduct. The work is hard with many long hours of practice. The girls attend many J.V. football and basketball games. But the effort is well worth it and serves to promote school spirit at S.D.

South Dade's baseball team started practice on December first, coached by Sam Miller and his assistant, John Petricini. Team members attended practice diligently for three months before the first of their games. All of this with the gleam of hope, that they might win the district championship in late April. Coach Miller thinks we have a "pretty good team" this year, and he knows!

GYMNASTICS

In the four years it has been in existance at South Dade High School, Gymnastics has built up to a major varsity sport for girls. The four main events: the uneven parrarel bars, free exercise, vaulting, and the balance beam require a great deal of strength, coordination, poise, and grace. The individuals performing must be top athletes in excellent physical condition.

What constitutes a good swimming team? Is it coach Pillafont teaching the essential movements and streamlining for faster speed? Is it Kathy Mancino explaining the rules or is it the team enduring the grueling practice in freezing water? What ever it is, our team has it. Practicing hard, the swimming team swam, turned, started, and froze to become a good team. The team is off and swimming to a winning season this year.

The world of Tennis began at South Dade in October with practices every afternoon at the Homestead courts. The coaches help, intra-squad matches, calesthenics, laps around the courts, desire and confidence of the players, all contribute to a good tennis team.

Coaches Bob Goodman and Martha Venning, observe opposing players intently.

SOUTH DADE STRIKES AGAIN

The strive for perfection put the South Dade Bowling team 8th in the South District. Ably led through long hours of practice by their patient Court John Linardi, the bowling team suffered through warped lanes and unexpected fouls from the try outs the first weeks of September until the end of the bowling season in December.

WRESTLERS: STRONG IN MIND AS WELL AS IN BODY.

A challenge to men of all weights is the exciting sport wrestling. Great exertion is put forth by the athletes to pin opponents without committing a penalty fault. For this reason S.D. considers Wrestling; another winning team.

The purpose of the class boards was to lead and represent the students in the senior, junior, and sophomore classes. Each class board was made up of six individuals all elected at large from their respective classes. The boards met whenever important decisions or suggestions had to be acted upon. At the end of each nine weeks the class boards held a class meeting to report to the students what was accomplished during that time and what was to be accomplished in the future. The Sophomore board's objective was to bring together their newly born class, the Junior board's objective was to sponsor a good prom, and the Senior board's objective was to keep the spirit rolling.

GOVERNMENT ACTIVE IN DIFFERENT FORMS.

The Principal's Advisory Board and Student Court make up the matching parts to Class Boards in Student Government. The Board consist of six blacks and six whites, who advise the principal on matters concerning students. Half of the board was elected from the school at large, and the other half selected by the principal himself. The Student Court, appointed by the class Board, with equal numbers of blacks and whites heard cases. They listened, made decisions, and gave recommendations to the correct departments. The court was not overly used, with only one case tried before it; that being the conflict in the Senior Class over who should deliver the graduation speech.

Teens in Politics, under Carolyn Lobban's direction tackled the annual trip to washington, D.C. for the third year. Earning the money with cartons of Betsy Ross Chocolate bars, scores of dirty cars, dozens of cookies, the club traveled to D.C. to represent Bolivia in the North American Invitational Model United Nations. Returning from the U.N., members began the job of putting on the Dade County Model U.N. involving three counties, and over 300 students. Apart from the United Nations, the Club campaigned for 18 year olds to register to vote, and participated in Social Studies Senate; preparing themselves for the responsibilities of aware citizens.

HONOR SOCIETIES REWARD THE DEDICATED.

Honor Societies at South Dade encouraged students to maintain proper study habits and excel in subjects. Requirements for the National Honor Society is a 3.5 average for three consecutive semesters. The club selected and sold senior shirts. After several debates over the traditional blue shirts, the old won over the new. New members were welcomed at the Induction Ceremony, and junior members began their new duties by planning the awards assembly at the end of the year. Both Spanish and French National Honor Societies were inactive, but students gained recognition for their success at banquets in their honor. Graduation day, all three Societies members wore chords, or collars, displaying their achievement.

On football fields home and away, through the halls, and outside for spur of the moment pep rallies, marched The Band. They changed moods with the tempo and selection of music. Precisioned notes; blaring and muted compensate for routine hours of practice. Band members must be more than musicians. They must also be salesmen selling candies; Christmas trees, athletes working out everyday, and dancers jiving on the football field.

EVERYBODY FOR A GOOD TIME? OUI! SI!

French Club and Spanish Club offered social activities for students interested in foreign languages. Neither professed to be a great service or educational organization, but a club intending to have fun. Spanish Club lived up to their claim with parties, a trip to St. Augustine, and a winning Homecoming float. French Club, not wanting to be out done, partied also, constructed many bulletin boards and worked—played on their Homecoming float.

IN THE OPEN AIR, THEY LET THE SUNSHINE IN.

The Environmental Action Group, created by senior Chris Pogue last year on paper, became a reality in 72. The group acted on problems of pollution in both the school and the community. Awakening students to their environment; speakers and films were contracted, posters put up, and campus clean-ups advocated. Hours of work were spent on painting scenery on the Shark Valley Everglades Van. Recycling of aluminum cans and newspapers served two purposes: ecology and finances. Not all the time was spent in service; bike trips in the Redlands and Crandon Park, picnics, and airboat rides in the Glades rounded out the year.

Their activities included dives to areas of the Ajax reef, Pacific Molasses Reef, and the wreck of the Benwood. Providing activities free from the pressures of school, the Dive Club is one of the fastest growing clubs here at S.D. It is definitely on the go.

PEP CLUB PERKS PEOPLE UP AT PEP RALLIES.

Pep Club came on strong at the beginning of football season with 200 girls that dwindled as the year progressed. SCHOLARS: ATHLETES SHINE AT SOUTH DADE.

The Letterman's Club consists of all varsity athletes who have lettered in at least one sport. The Letterman's Club means work, extra hours, after school, dedication, and sweat in representing South Dade in nine varsity sports in Dade County.

Order of Scholars, sponsored by Homestead Rotary Club, is strictly an honorary Society. Members must have maintained a 3.6 average for three consecutive semesters.

The Athletic Scholarship Club is another of S.D.'s new clubs. Sponsored by Scott Merrill, and Leonard Teaster, it encourages athletes who are being considered for scholarships to keep up their grade averages. Besides pep talks, the spirit is kept alive by frequent trips to Dolphin games as a group.

GIRLS COMPETE FOR MORE THAN MEN.

Girls Athletic Association provides the opportunity for girls interested in sports to gather socially. Activities center around intramural sports of Basketball, Softball, and Volleyball. The South Dade Tee Shirt and sweatshirt sale is also sponsored by G.A.A. girls. Members entered a float in Homecoming, working late until the last moment before the parade.

Dangerous, exciting, fun, and addictive all characterize gymnastics. To promote interest and proficiency in the sport, the Gymnastic Club was founded. Practice held at night, twice a week helped improve skills, with both junior high and alumni participants present. Moneymaking projects of donut sales, candy sales, bake sales, and car washes, helped pay for modern new equipment. Daring Helen Raska on the uneven parallel bars of the gymnastics float helped win second prize in the parade. County and State clinics attended by the club proved valuable in new skills and new friends.

STUDENTS EXPRESS THOUGHTS ON PAPER.

The South Dade Scene, the school's newspaper, struggled for success in the past year. With a completely new and inexperienced staff, the group tackled the job of reporting South Dade news. Making up what appears to be a simple paper with a few pages of print involves dedication, time both in and out of class, and the problem of meeting the all too swiftly arriving deadlines.

South Dade's Science Club, with its new sponsor, Chuck Black, livened up this year in comparison with previous years. By electing co-officers, they overcame problems arriving from two separate shifts. They sold cakes, at basketball games to help finance activities. Some of these included: picnic to Crandon Park, visit to National Marine Fisheries Centennial Celebration, trip to the Science Museum, and Key Largo.

A STEP AHEAD OF TIME . . . F.F.A. and F.H.A.

Future Homemakers, a club once connected with only sewing, cooking and other "feminine" jobs, listed its membership this year as coed. Attending both district and county meetings, they learned how to lead better lives today in hopes that their future homes would be better. To raise money, members sold delicious brownies, fudge, and cool fruit cups.

Future Farmers, an organization that may very well become obsolete in the quickly growing indusrialized world of today, reigned strong in 72 at South Dade. Members participated in the State Fairs and Youth Fair, taking most of the ribbons with their superiority over other clubs. Their work never ending, regardless of weather, brought both fulfillment and profit.

HEADS AND HANDS PREPARE FOR FUTURE.

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, under the able direction of Mr. Archie Thompson learn Auto Mechanics skills, preparing for a high paying job once they graduate. Air Conditioning installation and Major engine overhaul are only a small phase of their organizational capabilities.

The Distributive Education Club is involved in sales contests, field trips to Miami to observe first hand managerial processes of big business, and business conferences at district, state and National levels with other schools. Students work part time on projects, such as informing Junior Highs and others of vocational classes at South Dade.

Right—Students wait for job interview confidently.

TEACH, WRITE AND DRAW . . .

Future Secretaries Association—Sitting: Charlie Mae McNeil, Carol Grizzard, Lean Lester, Willie Mae Richardson, Susan Schucknecht, and Laura Starks. Standing: Phyllis Blankenship, Sponsor, Karen Dees, Joan Genter, Cathy Roberto, Terry Jones, Mollie King, Susan Wallace, Virginia Puckett, Candie Campbell, Kay Danzy, Gail Pollack, and Gloria Santiago.

The Future Secretaries of America is a group of young ladies who wish to gain the knowledge of secretarial and clerical work. The club, sponsored by Mrs. Blankenship, takes advantage of the school's business equipment such as typewriters and ditto machines. The also sell carnations for Valentines Day to all the sweethearts in the school.

Future Teachers Association—Ollie Clayton, Tony Versi, Cindy Stevens, Rex Johnson, and Jane Stapler.

Future Teachers of America, prepare the students for teaching careers. The members work as student teachers in the school at least one day out of every year. They also help teachers after school by grading papers, and typing. Mrs. Layow, the club sponsor, helps the members by letting teachers know there are aides available; teaching the students little tasks teachers do, and recruiting student teachers for the club.

David Rhoden works constructively on the off-set press.

The Graphic Arts Production Club provides courses such as Architectural Drafting, printing, and Technical Drafting. Printing Courses include printing by using a silk screen, and photographic processes. Architectural Drafting includes building styles, designs and reproduction techniques. Technical Drafting course is a basic method of visual representation. It includes orthographic projections, descriptions, isometrics and auxiliary views.

WORK PROGRAMS ENRICH STUDENTS' KNOWLEDGE OF BUSINESS WORLD.

The Diversified Cooperative Training Program (DCT) is designed to train students at least 16 years old, who are in the 11 or 12th grade and place them in a job situation of their choice.

DCT provides an opportunity for students to discover and develop their interests and abilities, enabling them to become more valuable citizens, with a satisfying feeling of confidence and vocational competency.

Cooperative Health Occupation is a one-year program designed to provide the student with the knowledge and skills necessary to function as a nonprofessional employee in the field of health services.

The students enrolled in this program obtain work experience at regular beginning wages and on-the-job training as part of their regular high school education.

Cooperative Business Education is a program for students that are interested in earning money doing office work while still in school. The student is in class four periods in the morning and works in the afternoon. Two credits are earned in C.B.E., one for class work and one for on-the-job training.

In class students learn how to get along with employers, how to dress, and many other things.

DIVERSIFIED COOPERATIVE TRAINING: Sitting—Patricia Hixon, Calvin Smith. ARTISTS AND ACTORS ACCENT SOUTH DADE.

The Drama Club, a union of young actors and actresses with eyes turned toward stardom, sprang to life in 1971-72. Under the direction of new sponsor, Ralph Wakefield, South Dade's Drama Department performed plays for the school and community. Opening the season with the famed "Christmas Carol" the playmakers proved that drama was not dead at South Dade. Late night rehearsals, greasy make-up, and hammered fingers all proved worthwhile under the lights; surrounded by the sound of applause.

The spectors of Christmas try to haunt Scrooge, before the curtain goes up.

Paintbrushes, clay, yarn, twine, sketching pads, and ink pens—all tools of young artists members of Pen and Palette Club. Appreciative of art; their own and others, they traveled to places of culture and beauty, Mathison Hammock for swimming, Coconut Grove for biking and art shows. In workshops for all, they turned out beautiful pieces of macrame' creating, as well as sharing their talents.

SURF AND SERVICE.

The Surf Club is all wet, but that comes natural. The call of the sea gulls and the crash of the surf is music to a surf club member's ears. Treking to South Beach is a week-end affair as the surfers try to coax a wave from the only beach open to surfers in the South Florida area. Many members travel up the coast when the word goes out—surfs up!

Sitting: Jean Walker, Terri Smith, Heather Aufort, Standing: Carl Bethea, Glenn Wilson, Bill Wilson, Cliff Hickson, Inex Waldon, Sam Bolden, Pat Selts, Joel Thompson, Steve Grier, Gregg Selts, Rick Cato and James King.

Sonja Reed an enthusiastic member of the surf team.

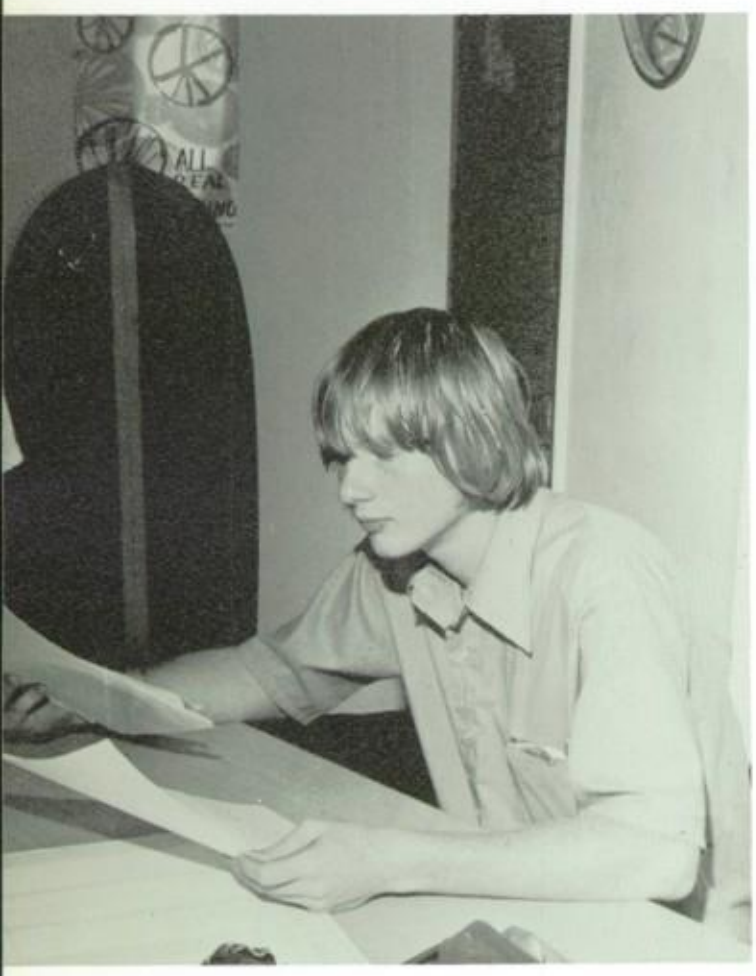
Civinettes have plenty of heart and showed it by selling valentine candy and passing the money on to the Heart Fund. The also sold Fruitcakes, and gave a Christmas party for Princeton migrant children. They continued their philanthropic activities by participating in the Walk-a-thon, and the Jerry Lewis Telethon March of Dimes.



Top left—Denise the staffs soul sister, works hard to complete her section. Top center—Occasionally Ernie takes a serious viewpoint on his work. Top right—Philip our irreplaceable photographer, Center—Randy Cox—photographer. Center right—Southernaires all-american boy Tom relaxes with a smile on his face. Above—In moments of despair even Kerry the photographer gets put to work. Right —After working tedious hours on the yearbook Kim, Joe, and Editor Lisa, talk exuberantly about the week-end ahead.

HOUR AFTER HOUR . . .

The soft lavender painted walls, the comfortable purple shag rug of the yearbook room camouflaged the excitement and conflict with-in. This is the room in which the staff spent many hours during school working on the book. To meet the deadlines in time it took many hours of work after school, which sometimes extended into the late hours of the night. Working so close together under such stress and strain, friction as well as hostility and obscenities satiate the air. Mouthing his way in Norm Anderson comes to the rescue, to add what he thinks is the final approval. Under the supervision of Joyce Hickson, the last of the sections are ok'd and sent away. Exhausted, the staff once again returns to normalcy.

Top—Mike and Alan are inseperatable when on staff. Center—Pat the business manager exchanges a receipt for a bite of sandwhich. Above—Co-editor Debi, in one of her pensive moods, Left—Meticulous Marcia, an essential member of the staff. Right—Steve, Kerry, Alan, and Mike gather round to look over lay-outs.

SENIORS '72

A funny joke gets a hearty laugh from Carl Wainright and Debbie Dayton.

A senior lives in two worlds: the past memories of exciting football games, the horror of term papers and the future with huge question marks filling spaces marked with college, marriage, and life. Occasionally, amidst the tugging and pulling from past to future; a senior steps in the present. Then, the days are occupied by special privileges for only graduating members of 72—5 minute early dismissal from classes, tee shirts declaring this is the last year, and crys of "We're almighty brave and true, senior class of '72."

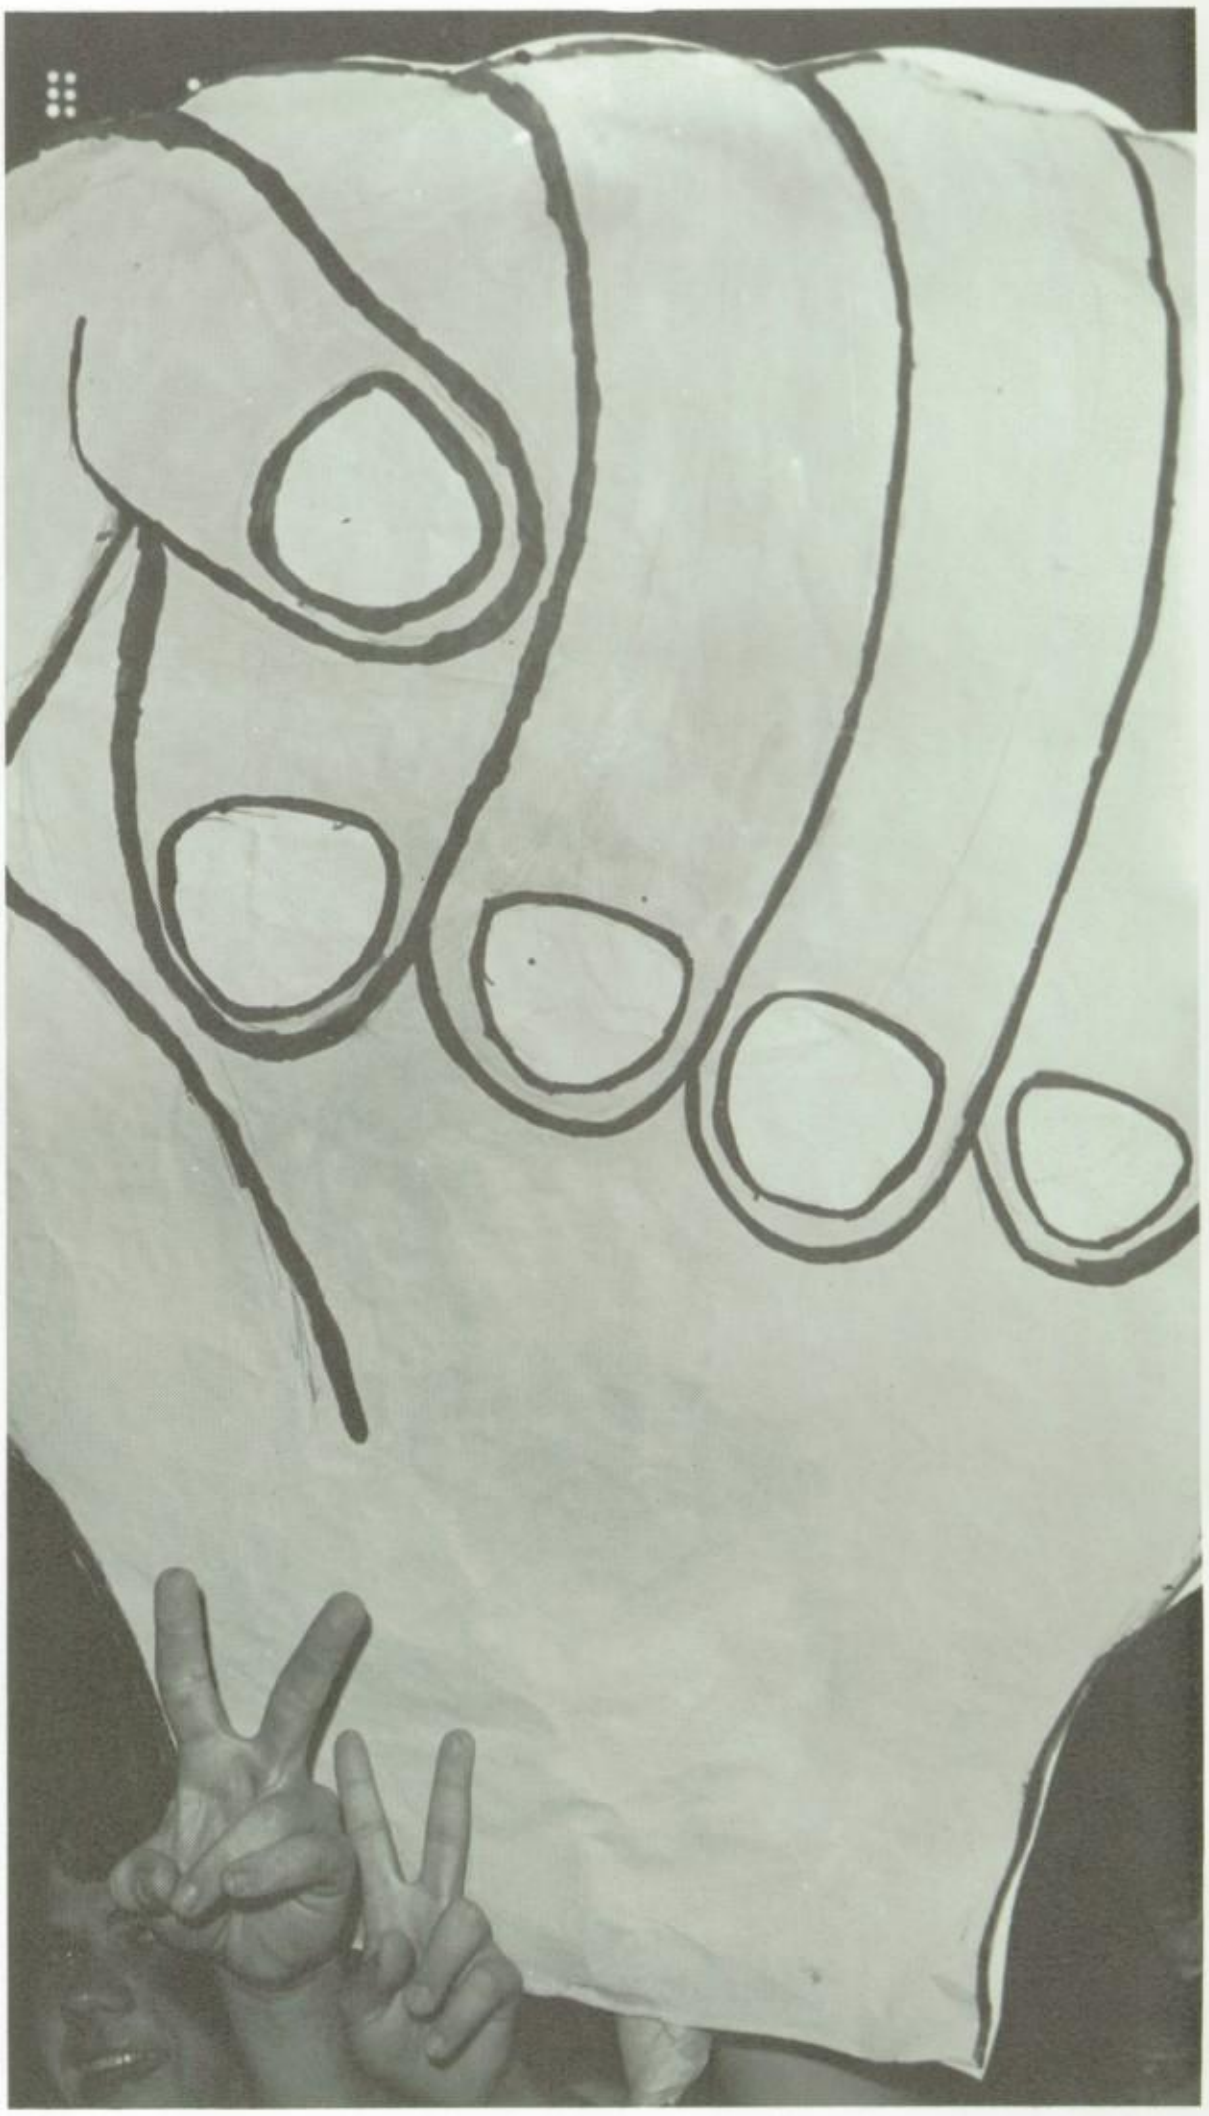
JUNIORS



Of three years in high school, the junior year is the least troubled. As a sophomore, everything is strange and new, as a senior, problems of college and future plans weigh heavy on one's mind. The junior year is filled with class rings, prom decorations, and junior marshalls. The success of the prom lies solely on the junior class. Much hard work and planning goes into the prom, but along with the responsibility comes the fun of teasing seniors about the site. As the year closes juniors usher at the graduation, and thoughts turn to the next year and of the Senior Class of 73.

SOPHS

Rene Foster caught in meditation

Fresh out of junior high the sophomores come. The paradox involved is confusing. Here you are, lost at a completely new school, yet you're lost with all your old friends. And who are the people who help you find your classes? Why you haven't seen them since they left junior high! . . . Yes, it's all the friends you had in the eighth grade but weren't there in the ninth. No, school isn't going to be so bad. In fact, it's getting better fast.

Sophomores experience first pep rally.

ACADEMICS

ADMINISTRATION

Principal Sonny Gross

The administration is the backbone of the school. With Mr. Sonny Gross as its leader, the administration directs the educational programs in which the students participate. Through these programs the students gain knowledge for the future. Education cannot be complete without personal guidance. This personal guidance comes from the counselors who help the students on decisions about selection of courses, test scores, college, vocation and personal problems. Mr. Norman Anderson, activities director, helps the students by creating school spirit through activities to make school life more bearable.

LANGUAGE ARTS

Even though English is required, it can be fun. It comes in a variety of flavors; advanced placement, honors, speech, drama, humanities and Triple I. Advanced placement English can earn a student college credit; Honors English is for those who wish to move at a faster pace. Formal debate and public speaking, make up, speech—a course new to South Dade this year. Humanities Classes cover the background of human culture. Drama is a conglomerate of individuals bent on reaching stardom. And last, Triple I, an elite group, work on an individual basis.

The social sciences study the vast world; from the psychology of people to the study of history, government, and communism. Anthropology, the study of man, and living government are both new courses this year. South Dade's living government uniquely supplies students with the opportunities to learn about government on a first hand basis.

SCIENCE

Biology, Chemistry, Physical Science, Physics, and A.P. science are all offered at South Dade. Through Scientific research students can learn more about man and earth than in any other subject. After the basic science courses are taught, there are college credit courses found in advanced placement biology and chemistry. Through the teaching staff, South Dade High has been represented and has won prizes in the state science fair.

FINE ARTS

The teacher of the fine arts awaken students to the beauty in music and art. The band directed by Philip Polson plays in both marching and concert form. The marching band attended the parade at the Gasparilla Festival in Tampa, Florida. Katie Burdick, South Dade's chorus teacher has put on many productions with the choruses. The art department inspires students to invest their talents in forms of ceramics, paintings, sketches, and macramé. What other group has painted art on doors and walls to take the boredom out of "government issue" beige?

Taking business education means preparing for a business career by joining the Work-Study program, by taking Vocational Office Education or by learning Typing, Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Business Math or Business English. The Work-Study program gives work experience by going to school in the morning and to work in the afternoon. The VOE offers such courses as Salesmanship and Merchandizing while teaching secretarial and clerical skills.

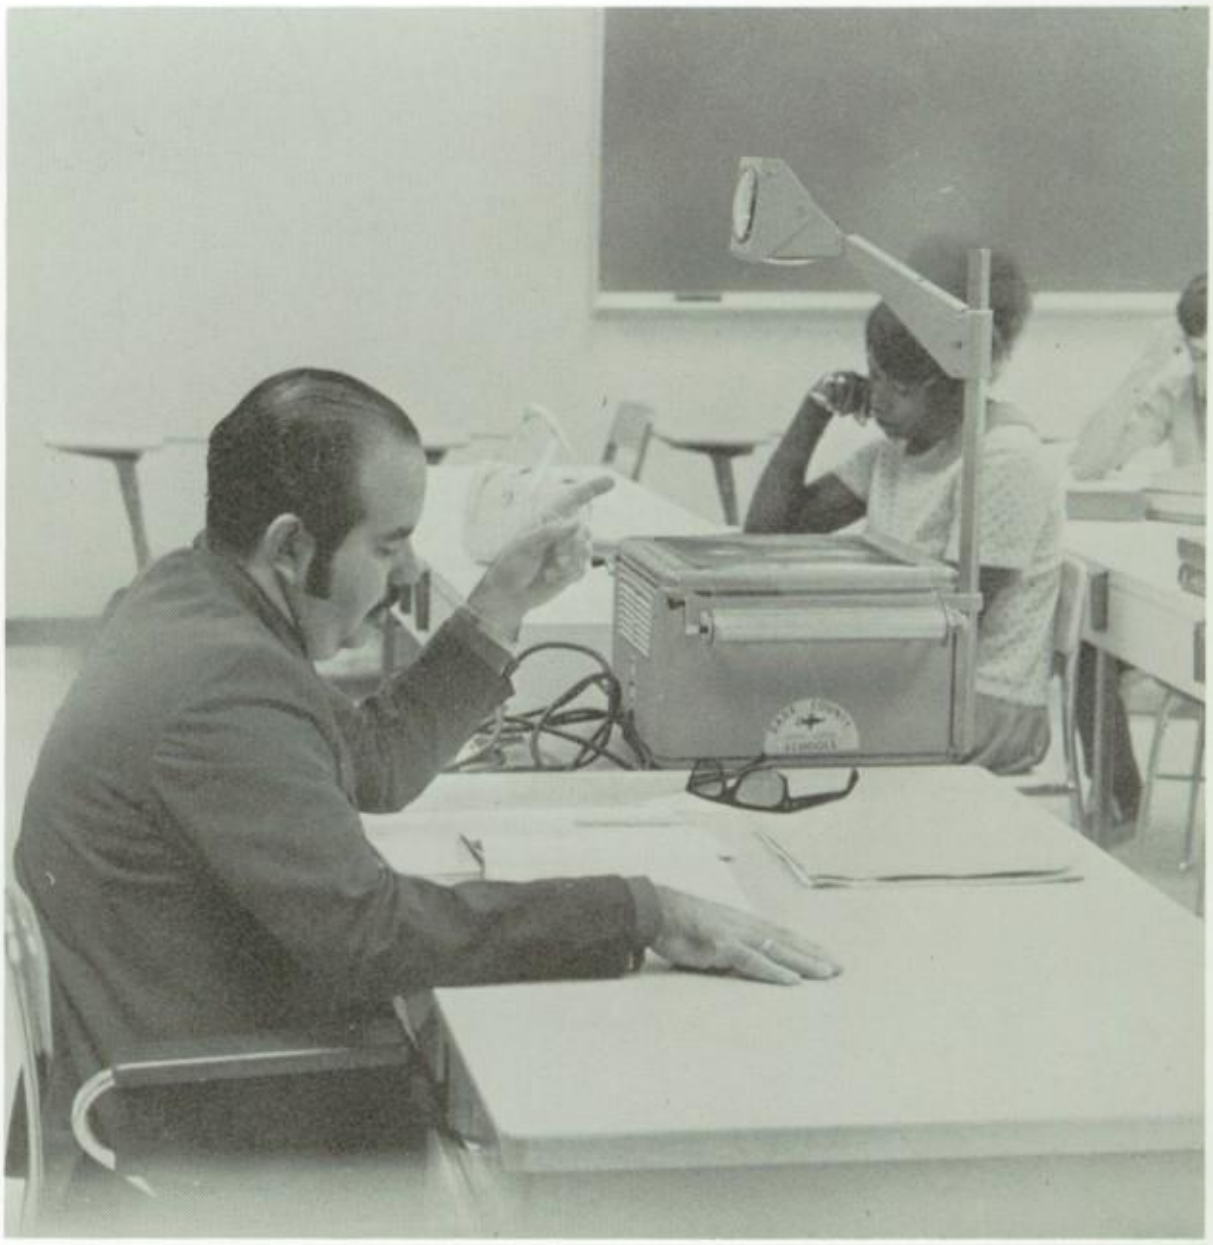
FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Clotilde Coats

Marta Kennedy



Five years of foreign language are offered at South Dade High. Communication is the key. French and Spanish are taught so that students can communicate with foreign speaking people. Field trips are taken to Spanish restaurants and museums such as Viscaya to learn the history and culture of foreign people.

HOME ECONOMICS

Home Economics is a course concerned with strengthening family living in our everyday lives. Through its numerous diversified branches girls have an opportunity to learn the art of homemaking. As well as the usual cooking, sewing, and child-care classes, are interior decorating, good grooming, and gourmet food classes.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Richard Brooks
Don Curtwright
Jack Still

The students' ability to use their hands and minds is a necessity in Vocational education. In wood and metal shop they must learn to use the saws and welding torches properly; in auto shop how to repair engines; in drafting, photography, and printing how to do specific tasks. Each of these fields directly prepare the student for a job in the future.

Agriculture is an outstanding feature unique to South Dade High. This course actually lets students plant, grow, and sell a product for a profit. The student is allowed to choose what he wishes to farm. The school provided him with the land, machinery and most of all the supervision and instruction of a teacher. The "Ag" department also has their own nursery from which they sell plants to residents in the community.

Not Pictured: Norman Barrow, John White.

The physical education classes provide exercise and sports to increase strength and coordination. The coaches also provide varsity sports from girls' gymnastics to boys' football in addition to P. E. Many of the coaches and other special instructors teach driver's education. Health classes are offered to inform students about drugs, sex, and disease.

CAFETERIA

When hunger strikes the only answer is food! A staff of capable cafeteria workers cater to the students. This year a new program has been put into effect which allows the students to have a brunch at 10:00 A.M. and at 2:00 P.M. The brunches consist of a sandwich, a fruit, and milk. Every afternoon the cafeteria serves a hot lunch. The cafeteria manager tries to vary the food selection to please the students and still present them with a balanced diet.

CUSTODIAL STAFF

Unlike most of the staff members at South Dade, the custodians work does not stop at the end of the day. Endlessly they clean-up after the students and teachers and tend to the grounds. Visible in a crowd with grey uniforms and an aura of business about them, they keep South Dade a place of pride and beauty.

The Supermarket—Busy bustling, people buying their weeks worth of foods and fancies, children crying craving certain sweets, suckers not sauercraut, candy not cabbage. Motivated mothers insist on nutritional nourishment valiantly veto all demands of delightment. Clattering clanging of checkout clashes on nerves that are fast becoming fraught with frustration. At last leaving hassle and hurry of the supermarket, the shoppers move out into the wicked world of wastefulness again.

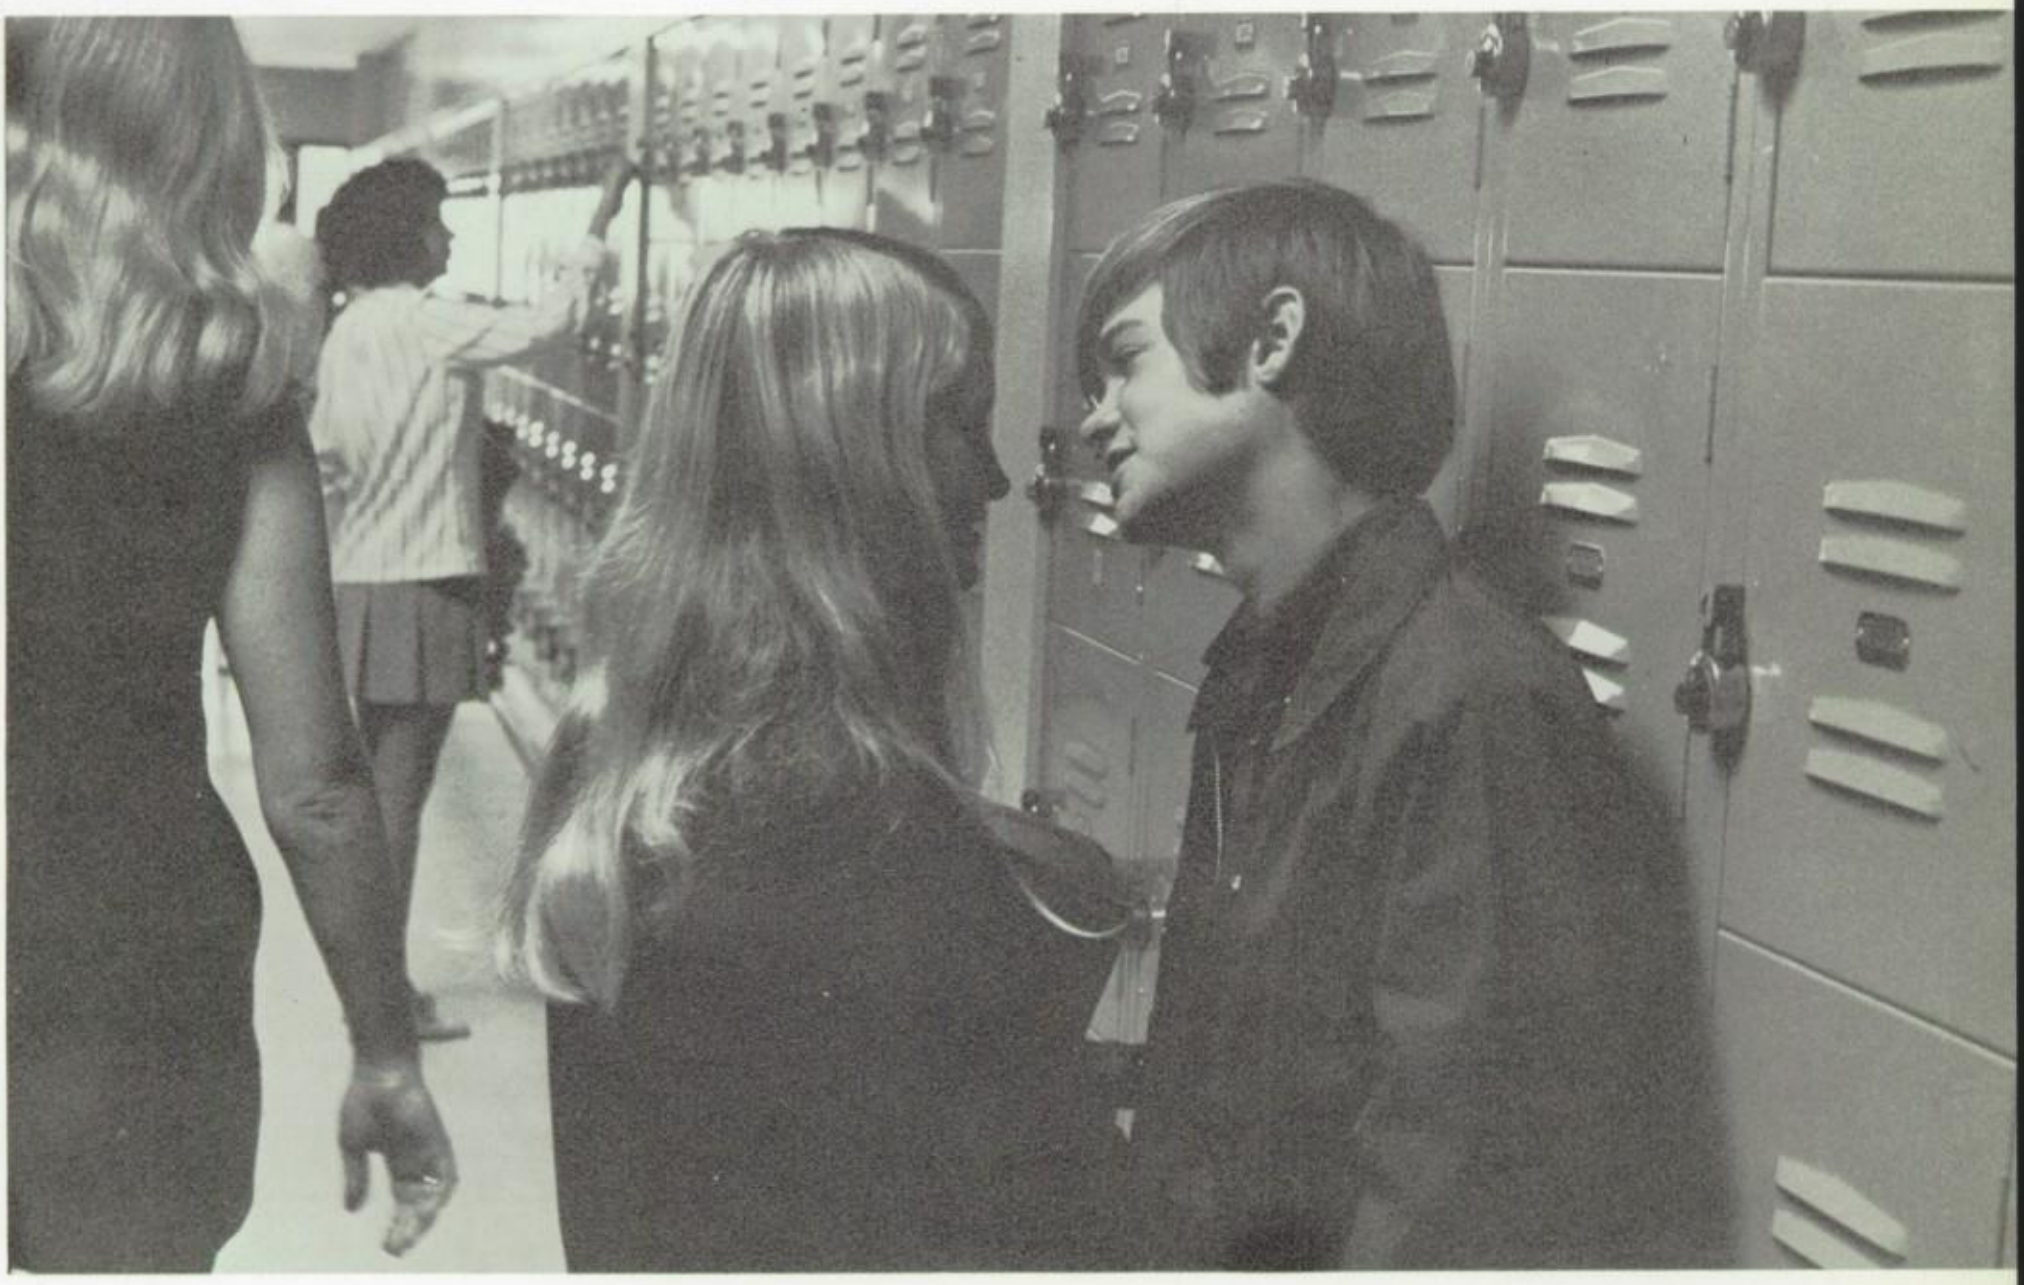
BOY MEETS GIRL,

AND GIRL MEETS BOY . . .



Opposite Left: Sonja and Ralph walk hand in hand. Opposite Right, Above: Kathy uses a woman's persuasive powers on Robert. Opposite Right, Below: Jennifer enjoys the attention of flirtatous Shalom singer. Above: Nancy and Wayne share a moment between classes. Below: Things don't appear to be going well for Mike Blaha.

Romance makes up a special part of life at South Dade. Within its walls the time worn story of boy meets girl, girl meets boy develops. Although the story is an old one the characters are new. The joy, and excitement of love never changes, nor does the pain and depression of rejection. With that special person to occupy your mind many lectures are missed, pages left blank, and typing errors made.

AS THE SUN SLOWLY

The atmosphere of South Dade changes as the school day closes. The first class of the day stretches infinitely ahead, but somewhere after the break, time shortens and the day is measured in periods instead of eternity. Although there is no bell to blare the days ending, the punctual rush of students on their way to work and play dismisses South Dade.

SINKS IN THE WEST

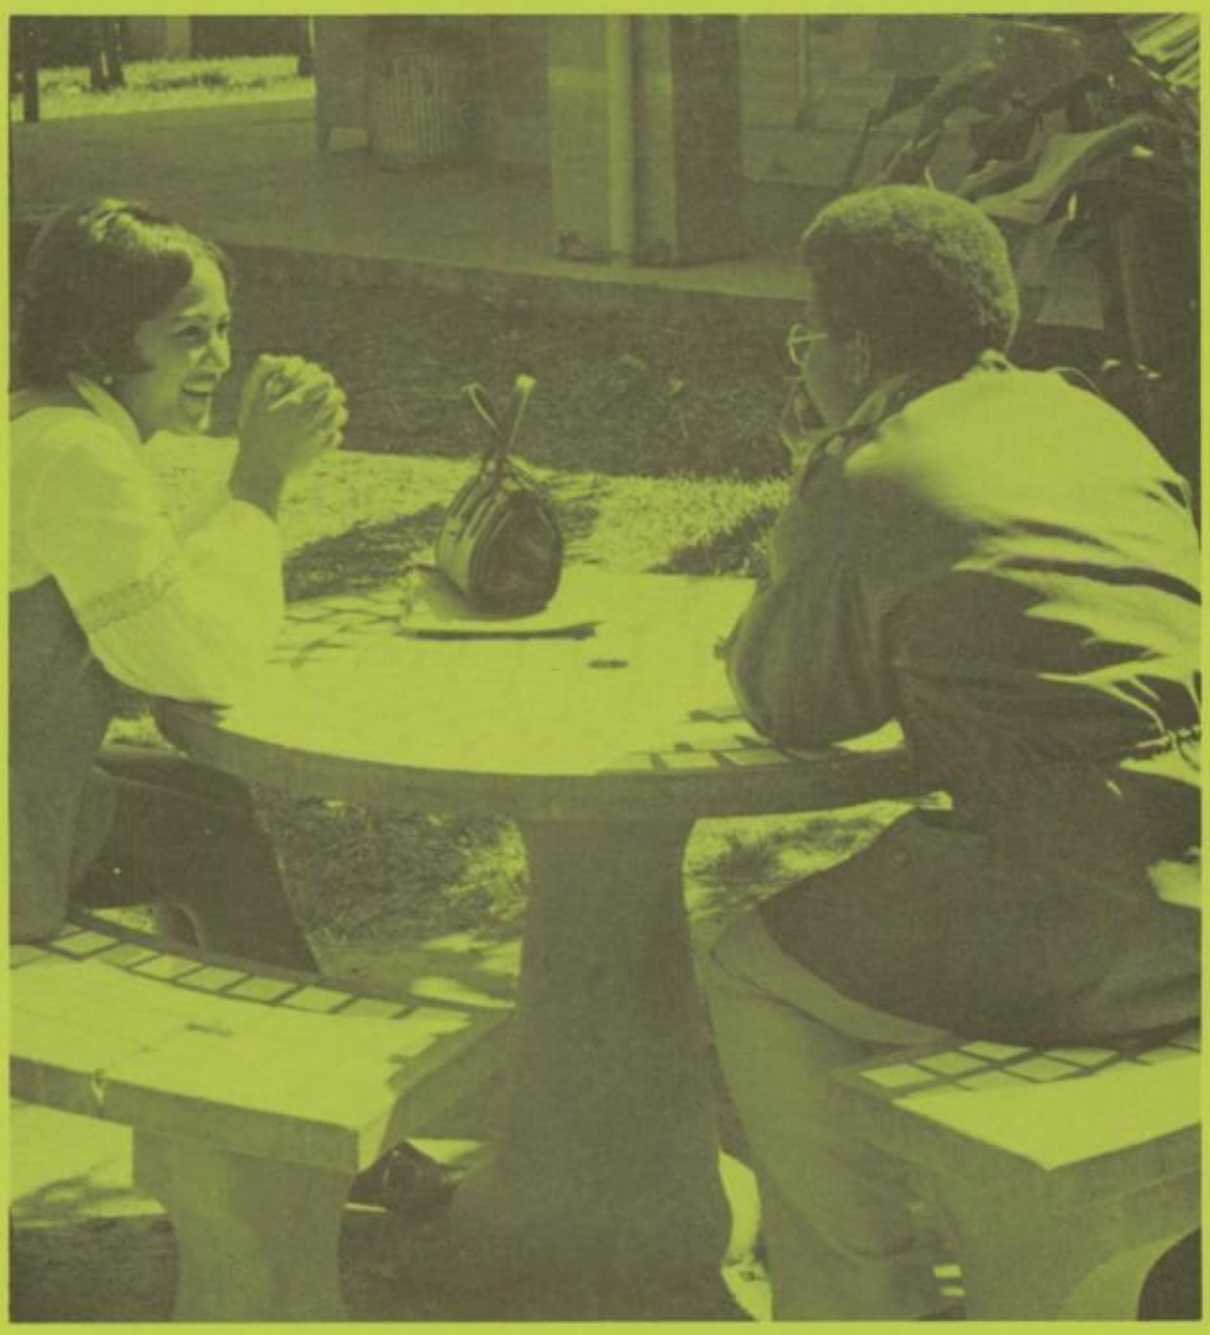
180 DAYS, 900 HOURS, 54,000 MINUTES . . .



In September the year stretches long and wide; the grade books empty, the attendance cards clean, classes new not yet routine. The end of the year is unimaginable with months of football, Christmas, term papers, and friends blocking the view. Somehow, the potpourri of life at South Dade passes; slowly at first and then suddenly so quickly that you stop and wonder where the time went.

Opposite page: Students research in the library
Below: Olga Villafana—a new student at South Dade.
Left: Newly added tables offer places for conversation.

David Bailey does his own thing.

YOU ARE YOU. HE IS HE. I AM ME.

The sign of the times is one of individualism. The quest for uniqueness in personality, dress, and achievement is fervently sought by all. Yet, even while trying to be different, it is sometimes difficult to accept someone else who is different or contrary to you or your ideals. The contrast at South Dade includes a long varied list—Black versus White, Redneck versus Militant, liberal versus conservative, ets., etc. The events resulting from these divergences are to be mentioned also—the painting of discrimanatory words against the homecoming queen, the existence of the black power movement at South Dade, the klu klux klan meetings, and the growing drug problem. Yet, even though these happenings are unfavorable, there is no reason to ignore them. Rap sessions, clinics, and special meetings have been held throughout the year to help solve problems and bring the school together.

. . . THE END?!

The last page in the book, the end of the account of the year 1971-72; the end? In some ways yes, in some ways no. This year terminates ten, eleven, or twelve years of schooling, yet begins another, as full of new people and new experiences as the last. Sadly, but truly, the days so real now, will blur with time. Yet, though the events may blur, the impressions they left will remain.

Right: Faith escapes reality for fantasy.
Below: Friends romp and run together across the field.

Dear Tim,

Thanks for being a great person. People like you make friends worth having and the world worth living in.
